

Train the Trainer

Trainers create lasting impressions on employees, inspiring them with a company's values and expectations, as well as ensuring that employees have the necessary skills set to succeed.

This two day workshop is for anyone who is required to train employees or members of their team in the skills and competencies which apply specifically to their business. You will gain ideas, skills and tools to prepare for, design and deliver effective training programmes that will fully engage and motivate people. The workshop includes ideas on how to produce and use visual aids, techniques to involve groups and will help develop the confidence and knowledge you need to train varying numbers of people, with differing learning styles and levels of experience.

Do I need any experience?

No. Our trainers have designed the workshop to give you all the information and training you need to develop your skills.
